

Web Design and Programming...

DiamondArt has been creating web sites since 1996. From basic HTML, Flash, Javascript, and ColdFusion/SQL based applications you can be assured that your project is in good hands and will be completed exactly as specified. Your satisfaction is our #1 priority and with DiamondArt you will get the best value for your project budget! Wireless web programming is also available for your mobile data needs!

Logo and Identity Creation...

Most people do not think of a logo as their 'identity' but in most cases it is one of the first items that people associate with your business or organization. Your logo needs to be an item that people will easily recognize and also one that they will associate with you or your services.

A good logo can be as simple as some black and white text, but when used properly, it will begin to be used by your customers to set you and your services apart from your competition. Having a good, clean logo is like having an extra sales person on your staff without the added expense.

Photography (Product or Location)...

To show your product or other object there is nothing like good, clean photography. DiamondArt can either photograph your items at your location or back at the DiamondArt office to make your job easier. With studio lighting and multiple cameras, your photo project will be a top quality image. DiamondArt can also help you with your on location photography needs. From large scale product photography to building or landscape photography, you're in great hands with DiamondArt. Photography is available in film or high resolution digital formats!

Graphic Design...

Without great graphic design skills, your projects can come out a little bland or they can look like your competitors....causing you and your business to not stand out from the crowd! From the newest computer generated designs to traditional media (ie. pen and ink drawings, paintings, marker comps, etc.) Diamond art can work within your budget and get the desired results by using various media types to help you stand out above the rest.
